

now you can take it with you!

Today, it's easy to keep in touch. Mobile technologies are increasingly popular and make life so much easier. But staying in touch on the run means responsible communication, too...like Hands-Free cell phone use while driving. Many states now prohibit hand-held cell phone use on the road, and Microsonic makes it easy to keep your hands on the wheel with our Personal Listener Mold.

Other applications, such as popular portable music players and various communications headsets, can all benefit from custom Microsonic earmolds. We have styles for just about every one! Wearers tell us that they hear better with our molds because the sound is focused in their ears and background sounds are reduced to more comfortable levels that interfere less.

Please contact a hearing professional for more information about the Microsonic product line.
